

Wyoming Employment and Payroll: Weak Job Growth in First Quarter 2020

This report focuses on employment and wage growth in early 2020, before the COVID-19 pandemic and related restrictions affected Wyoming's economy. Job growth weakened considerably in first quarter 2020, mostly because of large job losses in the mining sector (including oil & gas). Even before the pandemic struck Wyoming, the state was experiencing very slow job growth. A brief preview of second quarter 2020 employment and wage data is included at the end of this report

From first quarter 2019 to first quarter 2020, Wyoming added 270 jobs (0.1%) and its total payroll increased by $25.8 million (0.8%). The largest job growth occurred in leisure & hospitality (712 jobs), local government (including public schools, colleges, & hospitals; 378 jobs), construction (343 jobs), and health care & social assistance (252 jobs). Employment fell in mining (including oil & gas; -1,271 jobs), professional & business services (-170 jobs), retail trade (-154 jobs), and information (-140 jobs).

Laramie County added 736 jobs (1.6%) and its total payroll rose by $19.1 million (3.5%). The largest job gains occurred in leisure & hospitality, local government (including public schools, colleges, & hospitals), transportation & warehousing, finance & insurance, and manufacturing.

Converse County gained 433 jobs (6.4%) and its total payroll increased by $13.1 million (14.3%). Employment grew in construction, mining (including oil & gas), professional & business services, transportation & warehousing, and leisure & hospitality.

Campbell County's employment rose by 299 jobs (1.2%), but its total payroll fell by $949,255 (-0.3%). Job gains were seen in retail trade, construction, leisure & hospitality, and other services.

Albany County added 167 jobs (1.1%) and its total payroll increased by $7.5 million (4.9%). Modest job growth was seen in many sectors, including construction, state government, local government, other services, and private educational services.

Lincoln County gained 154 jobs (2.5%) and its total payroll grew by $5.9 million (7.9%). Employment increased in retail trade, local government, and construction.
